Principal's message

Books4Outback

Last week we had a visit from Books4Outback, a self-funded organisation that delivers pre-loved books to regional schools across the state. Books4Outback receives donations of second hand books which are then sorted, with the good quality books taken to rural and remote schools. Thankyou to Books4Outback for your kind donation to our school! Books4Outback donated over 60 quality books to our school library.

CWA Public Speaking

This week, Ben, Mitchell, Bree and Elle represented our school at the Oxley Group CWA Public Speaking competition in Trundle. All spoke very well. Congratulations!

School Upgrades

Public tenders were called for last term for upgrades to classroom entries and path removal and replacements. This work includes:

- Block 1 (primary classroom): remove concrete steps and handrails, install concrete ramps and handrails
- Block 3 (music room building): remove handrails and concrete slab from centre section, install concrete ramp and handrails
- Block 5 (food technology room & computer room): remove slab incline, install a new ramp flush with door openings. Install handrails flush with downpipe posts. Remove current computer room door and the storeroom door and reclad the walls. Install a new door and ramp
- Pathway (between computer room, IA room and Science block): rip up and replace with a new pathway.

Maas Contracting has been awarded the tender and work will hopefully commence within the next month. Once started, the work should take no more than six weeks.

General Assistant / Farm Assistant Position

These positions will close tomorrow. They have been advertised through I Work for NSW for two weeks. Soon the panel will meet to determine those going to the next stage of the recruitment process.

2/3/4 News

For next week, 2/3/4 students will be reciting a poem instead of giving a news item. The aim is to give them a taste of performing a piece of poetry in front of an audience. Each student will bring home a list of poems from school and parents are asked to help them practise one or two of them to recite to the class on their news day next week.

2/3/4 Library day is now every Wednesday.

A big thank you to all the parents for helping their children with their CWA speeches. They were all of a very high standard, and your efforts are very much appreciated.

Barbara Baker

Positive Behaviour for Learning

Well done to primary students who were acknowledged for their Excellence, Respect and Responsibility. All students are eagerly collecting tickets that are going towards their group acknowledgements.
